

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

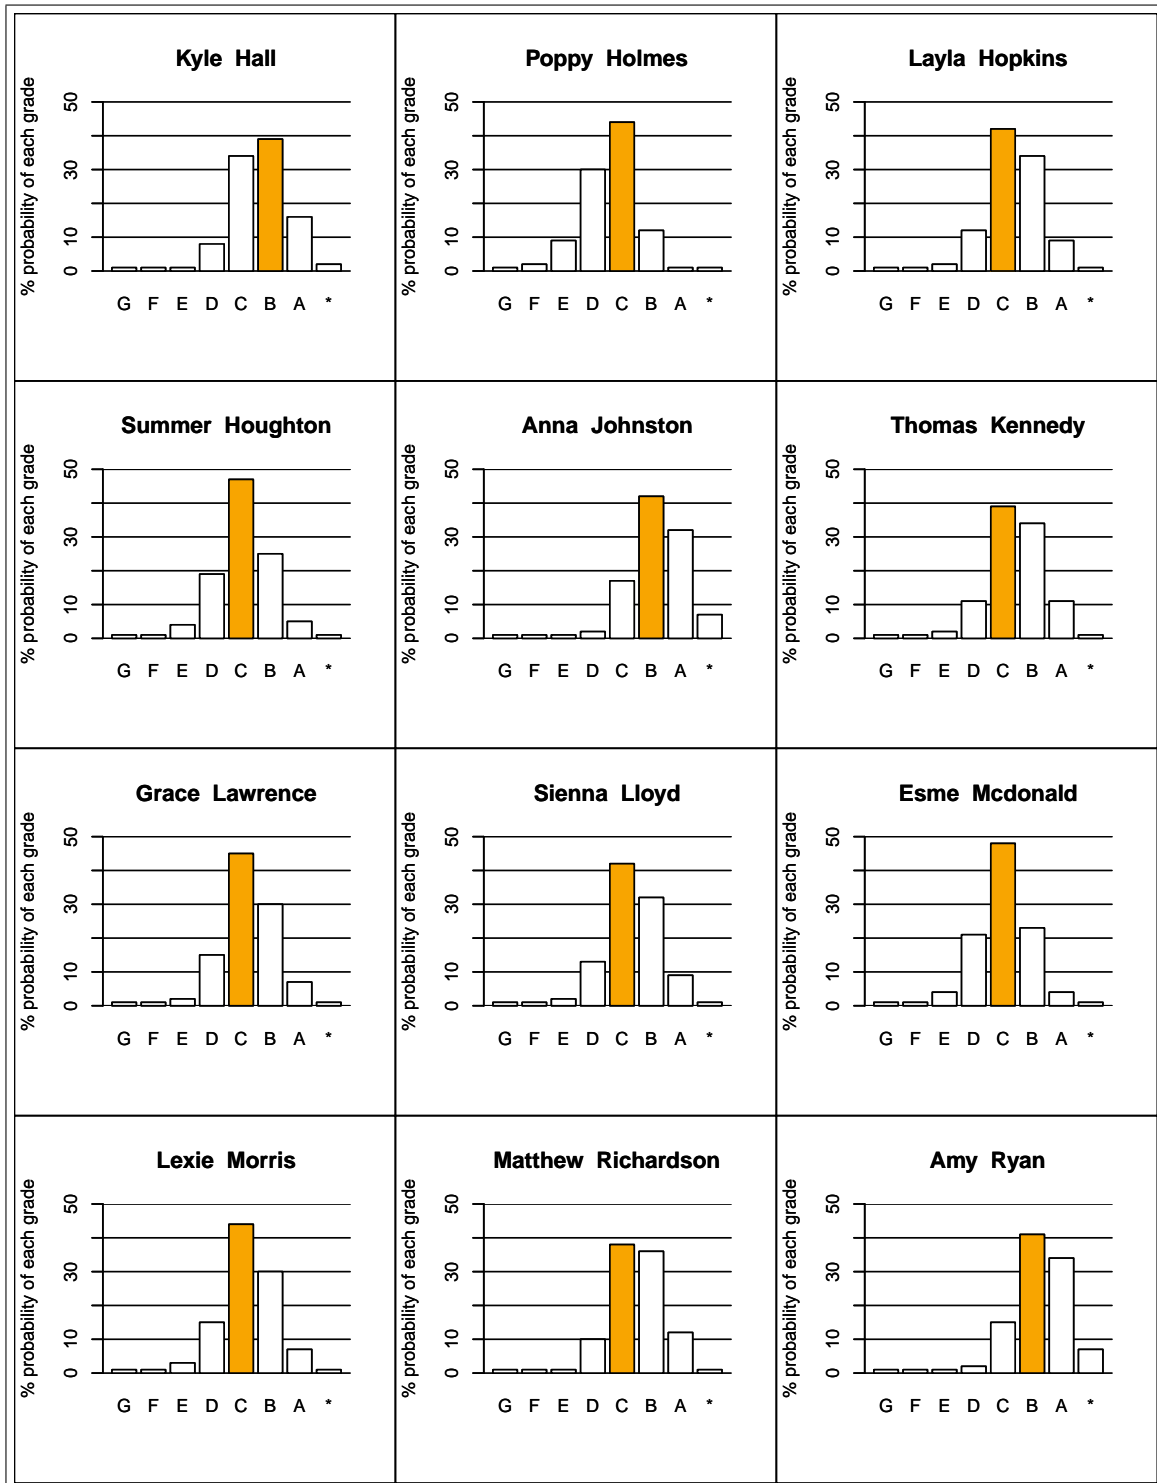

Teaching group: 11x/En1

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

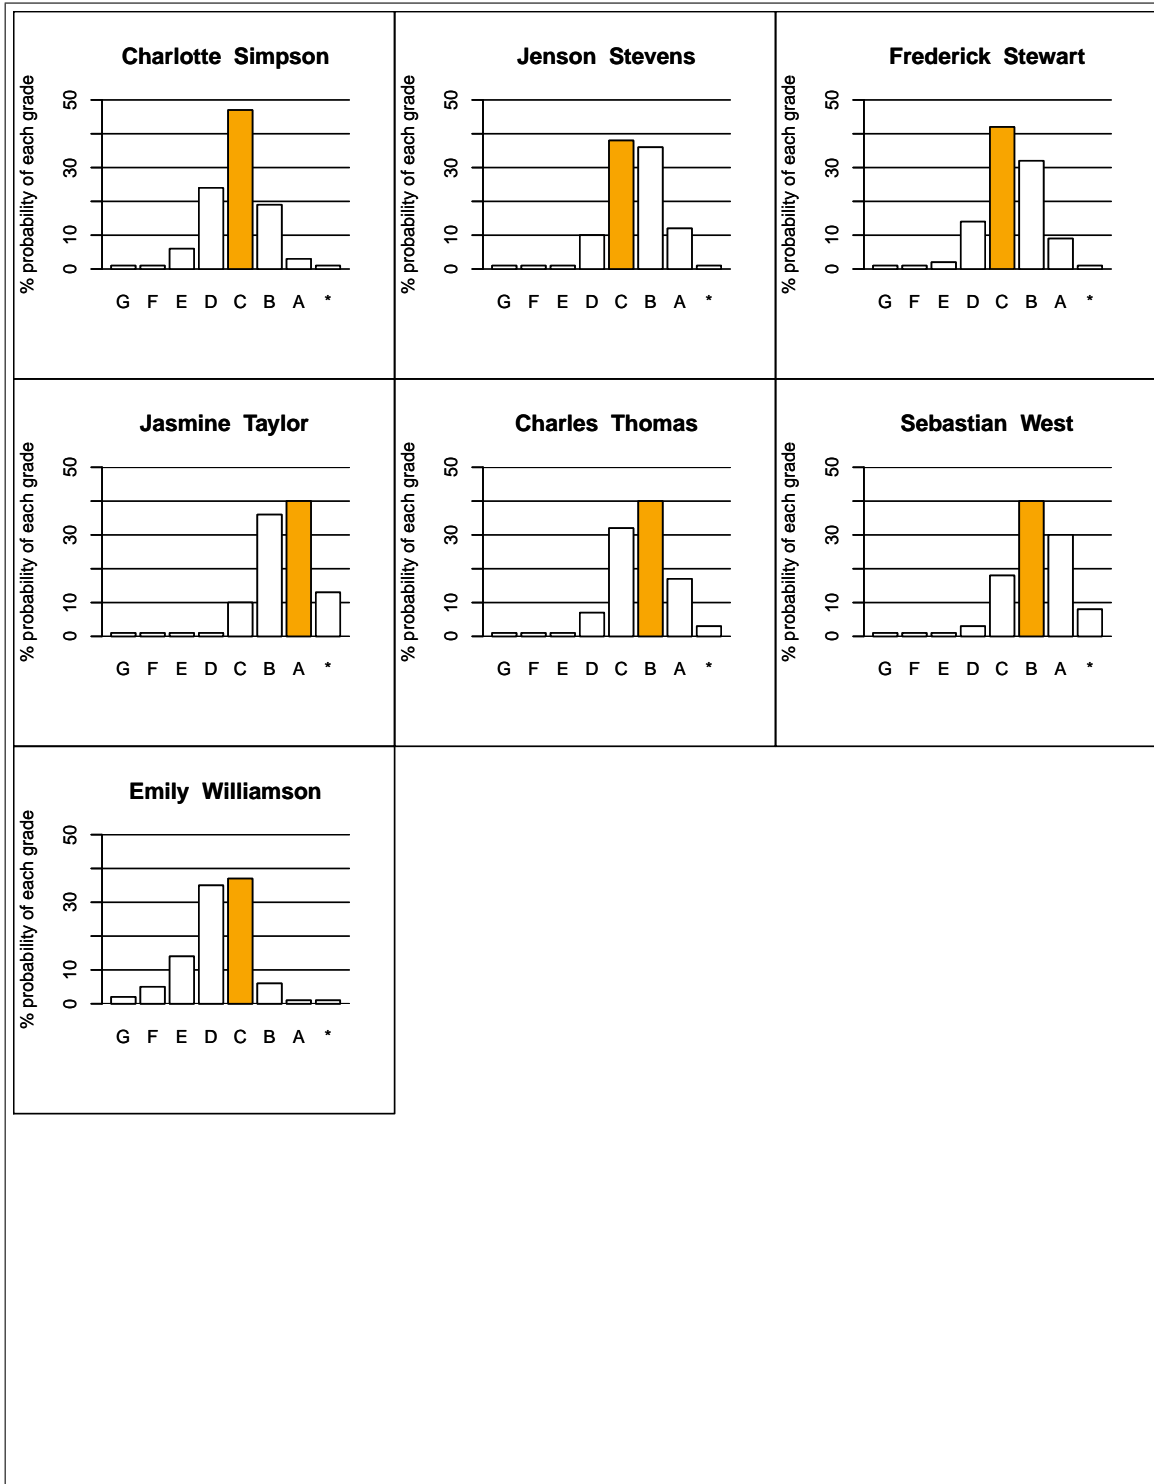

Teaching group: 11x/En1

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11x/En1

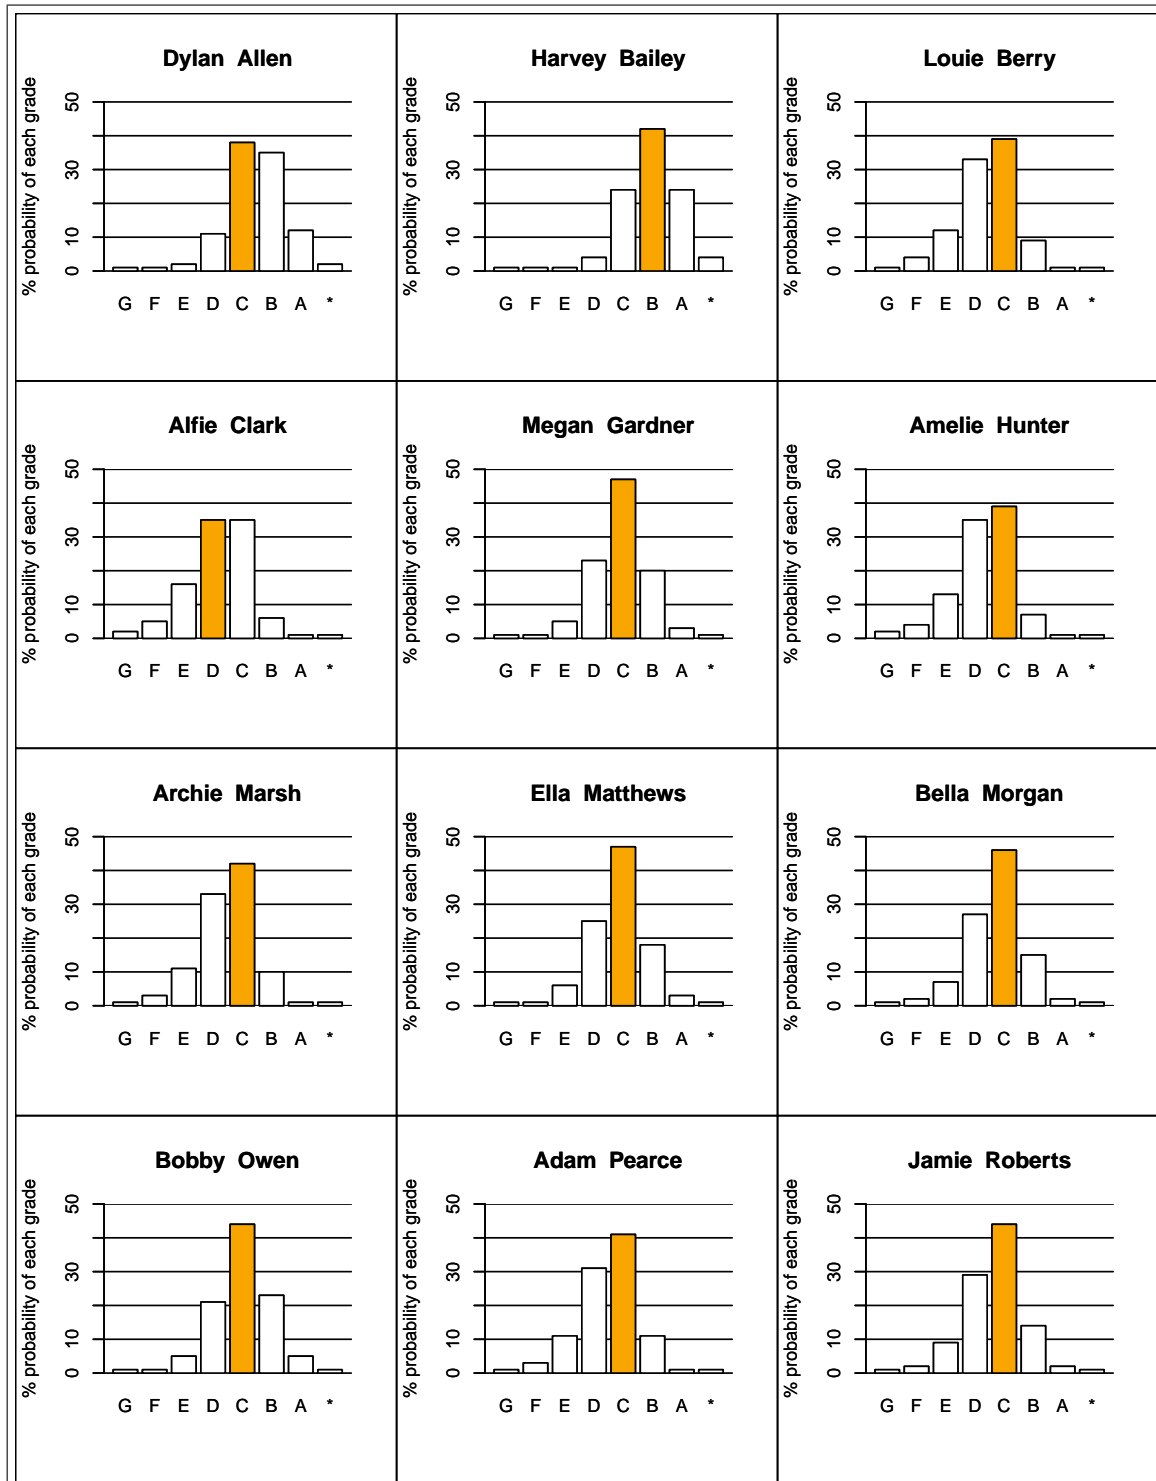

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

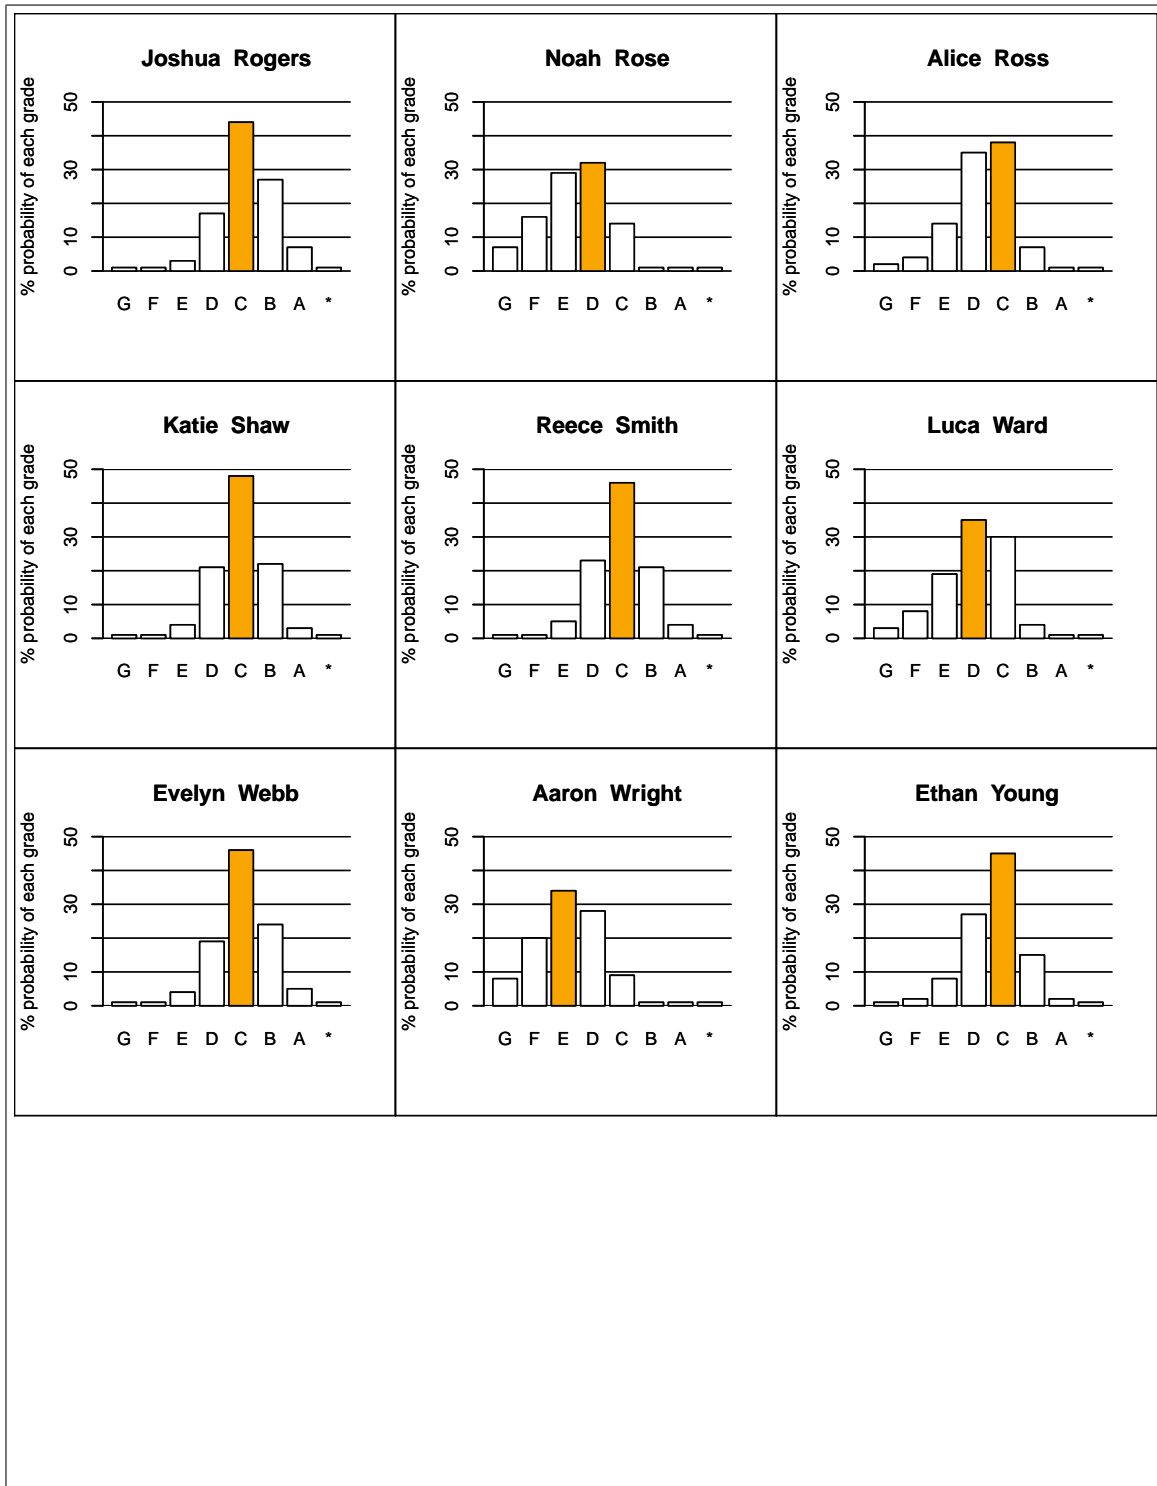

Teaching group: 11x/En2

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

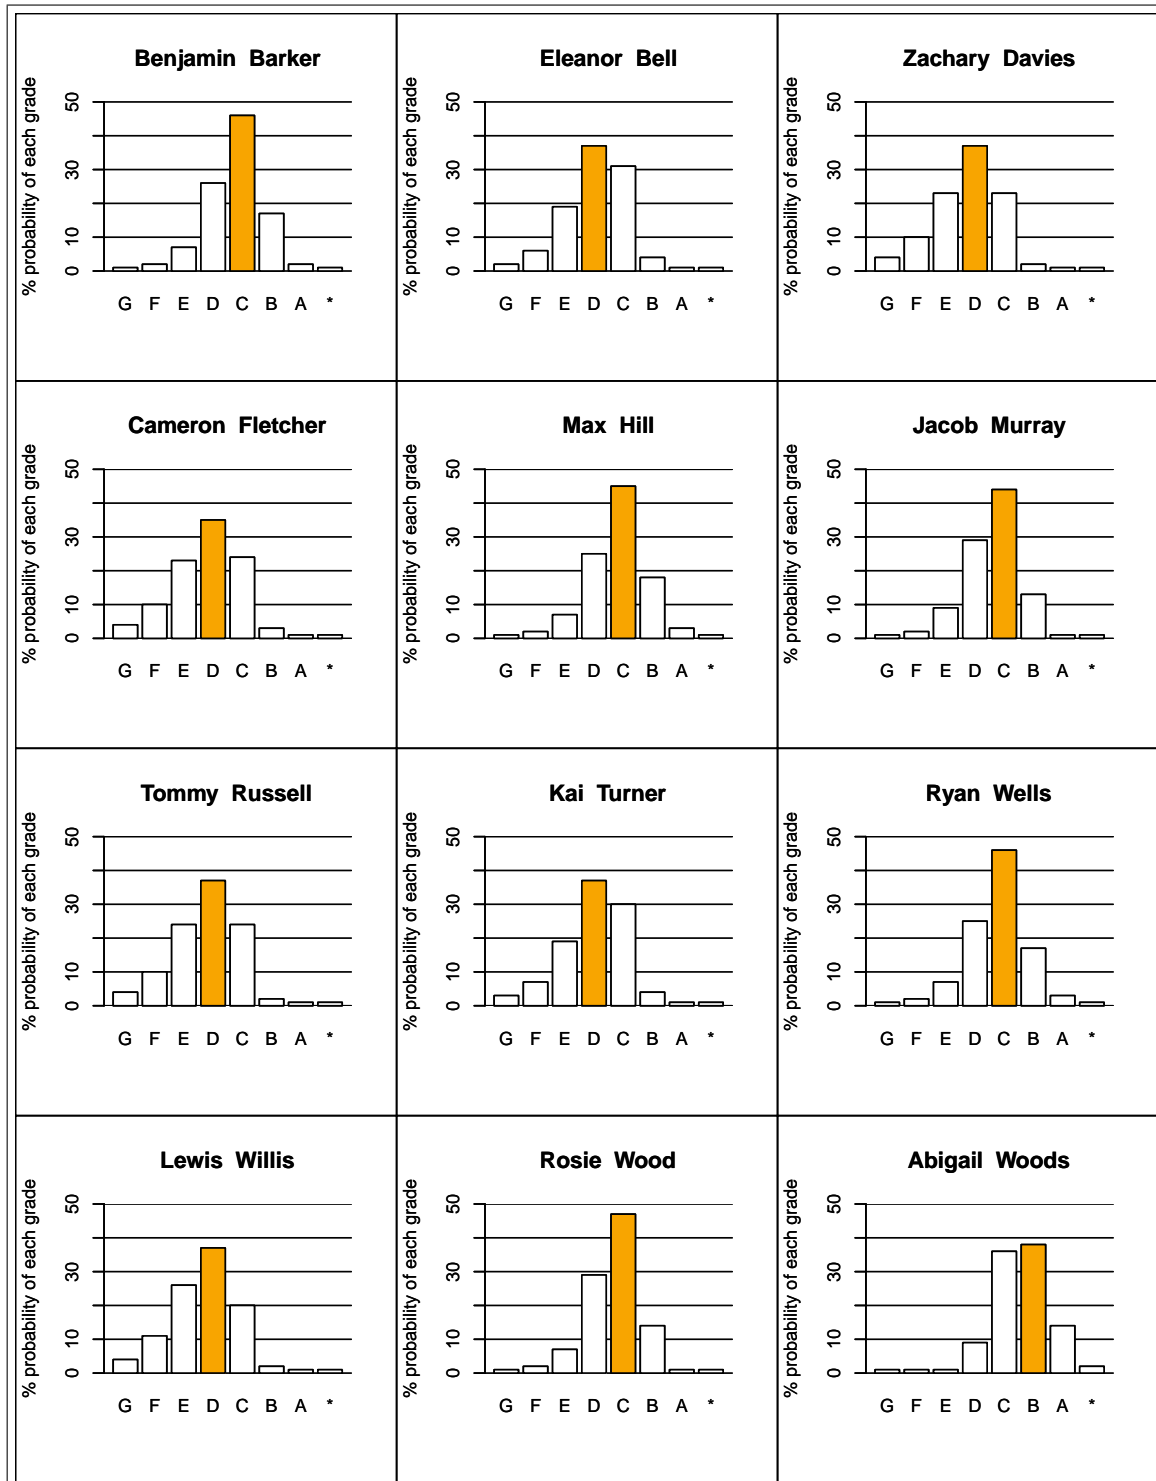

Teaching group: 11x/En2

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11x/En3

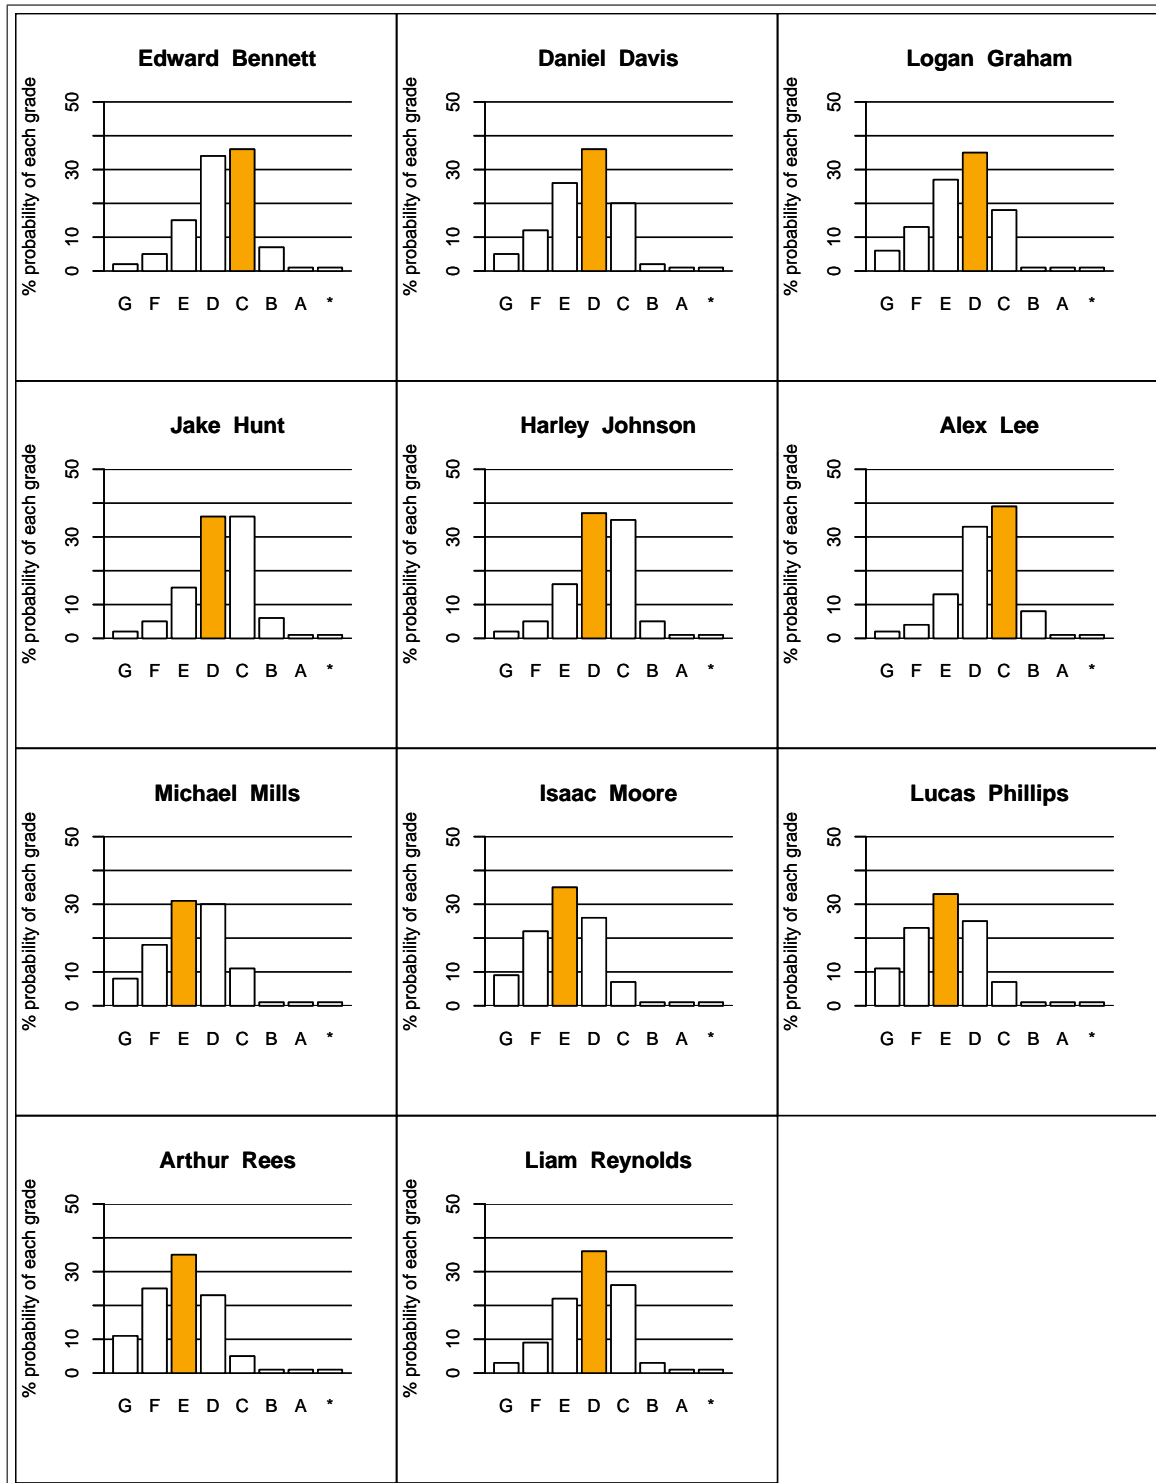

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11x/En4

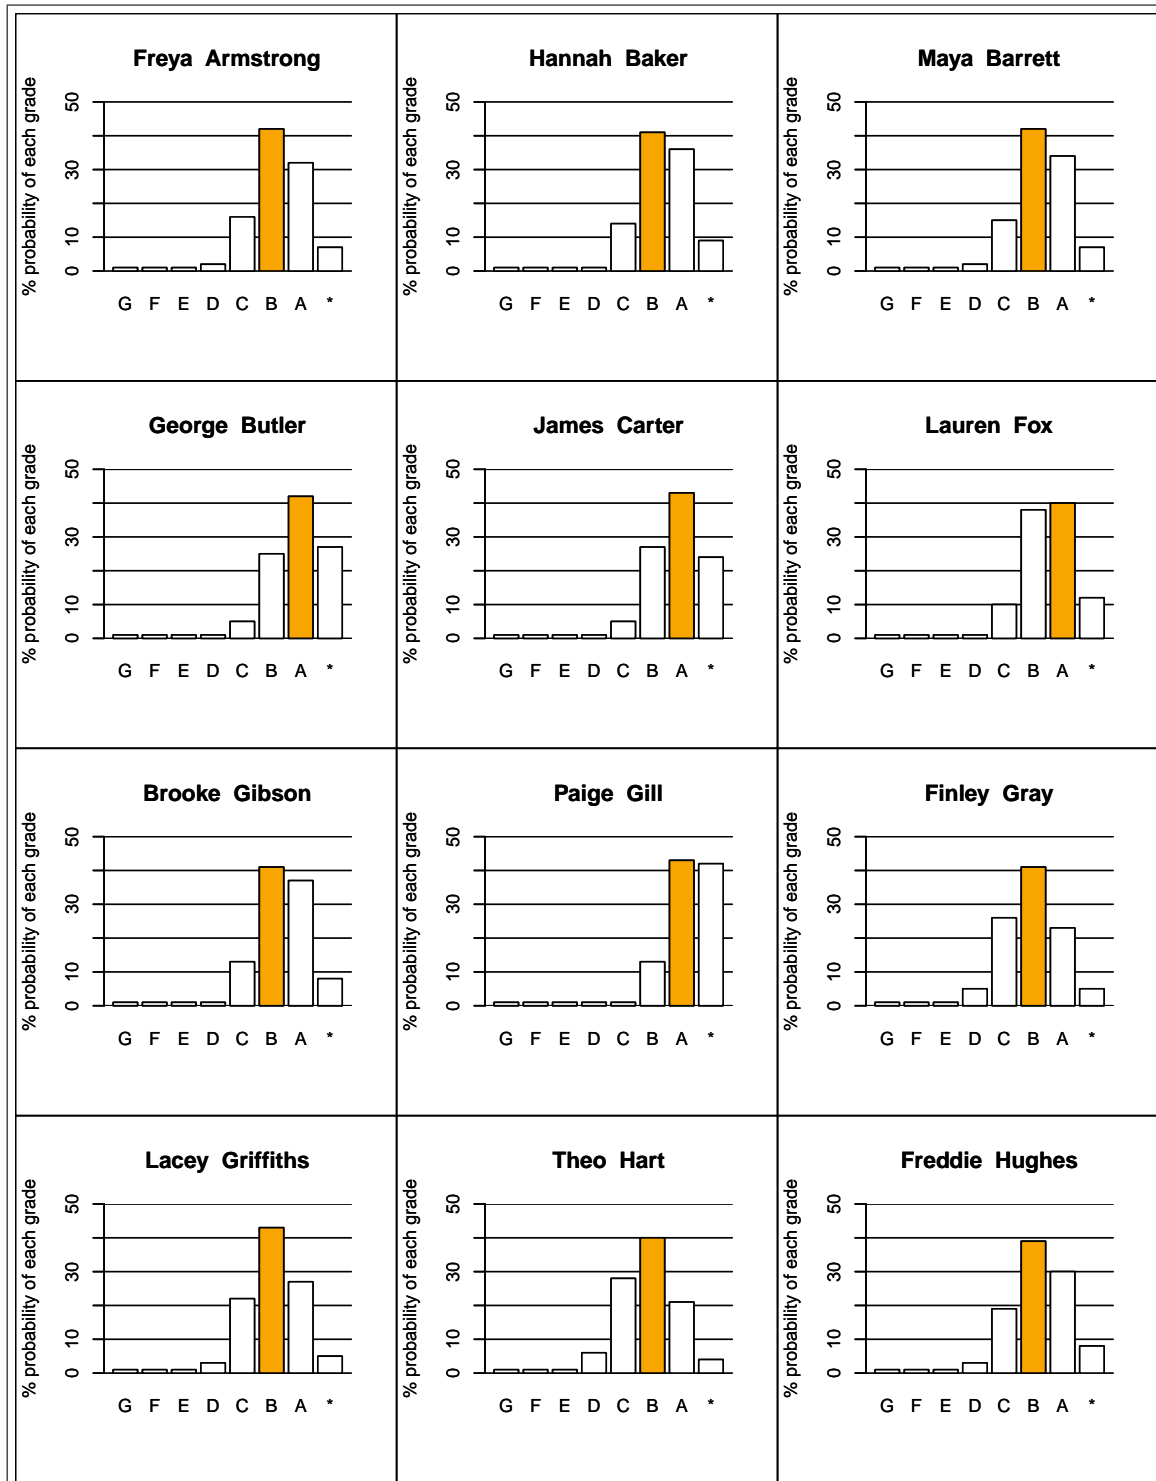

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

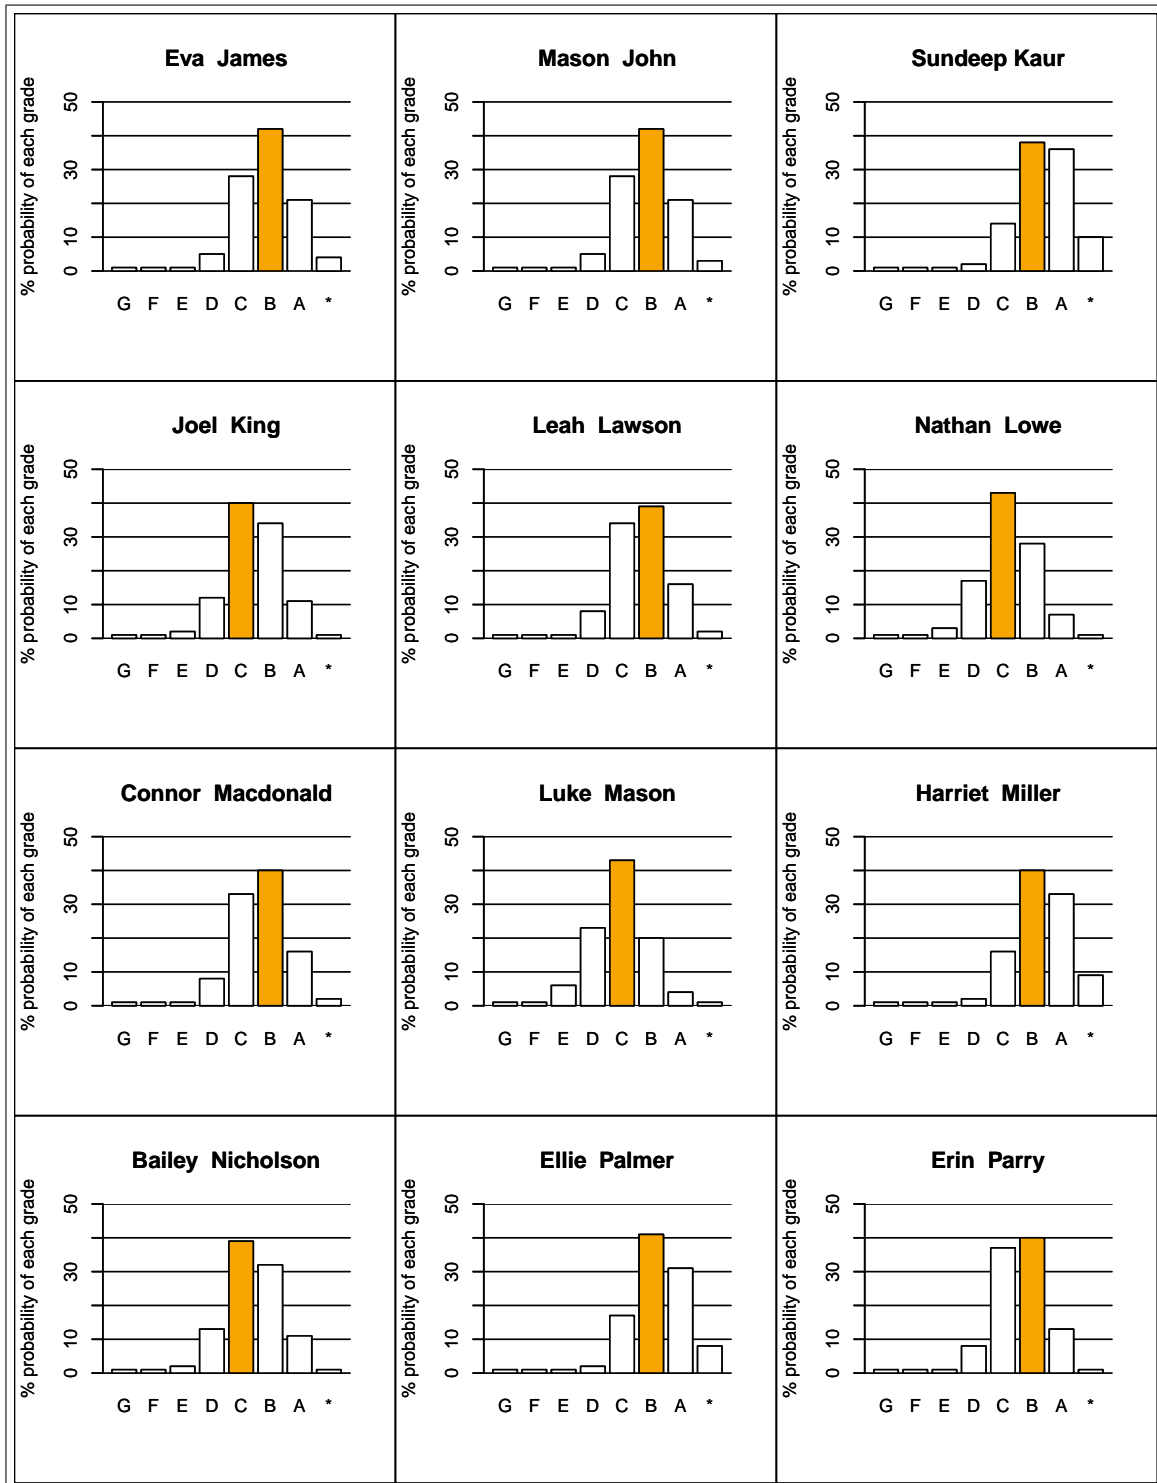

Teaching group: 11y/En1

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

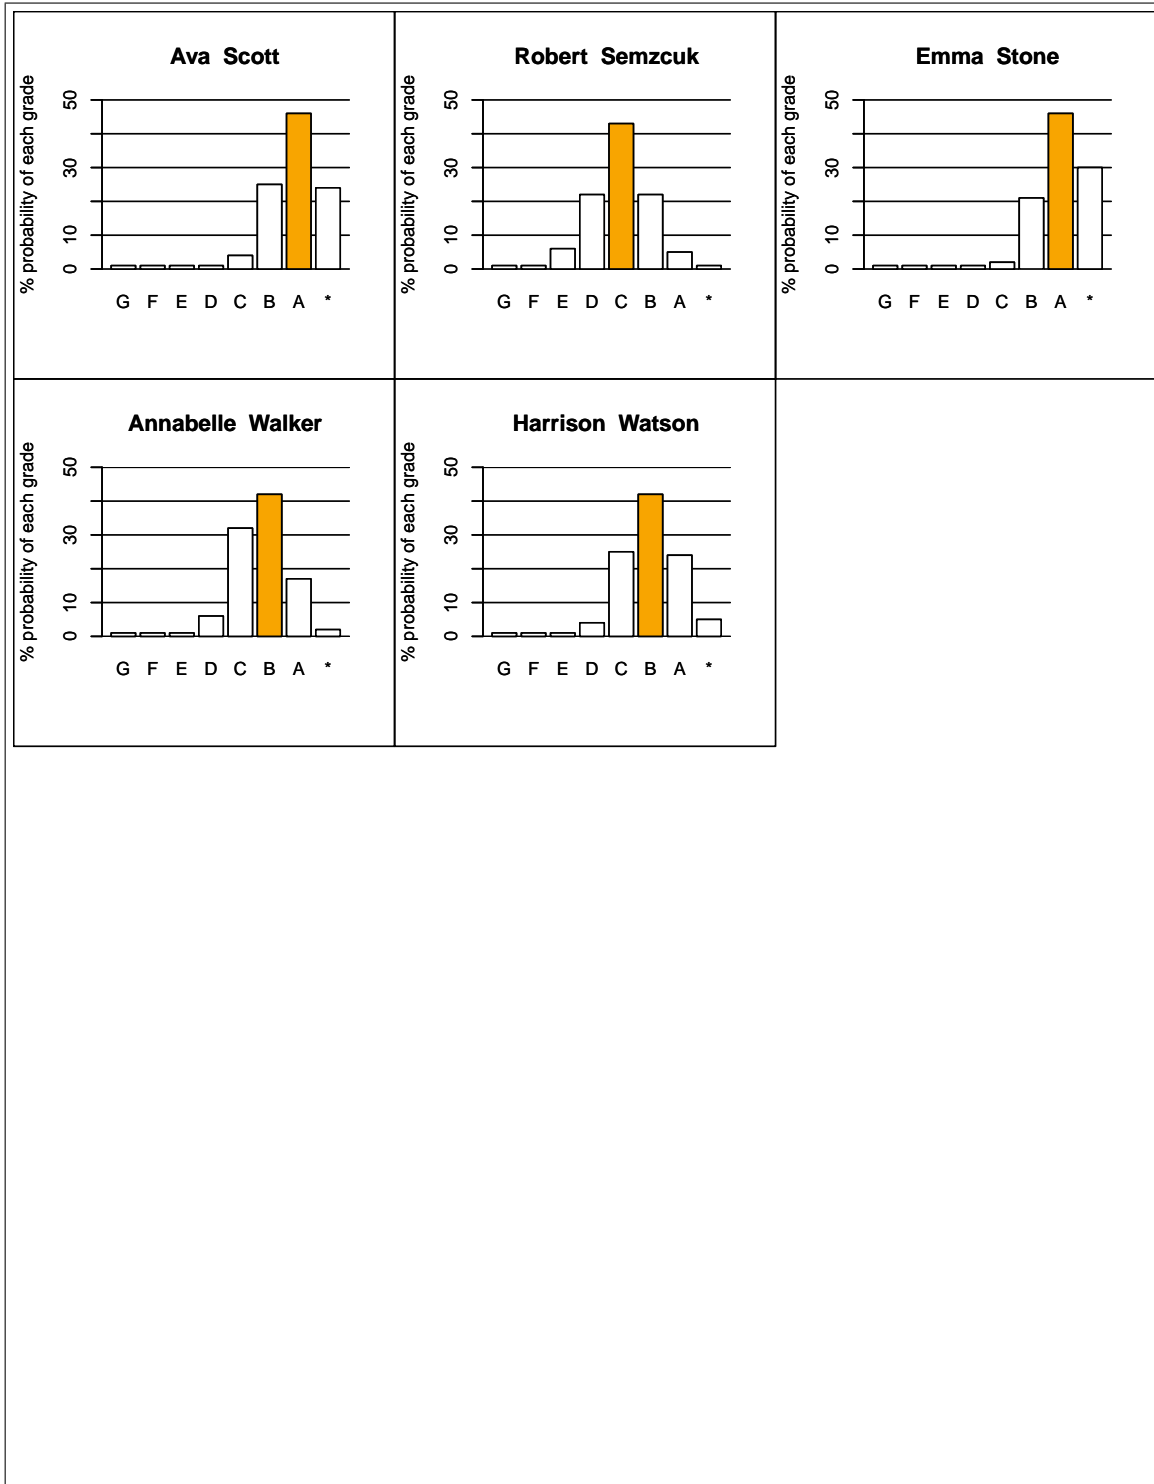

Teaching group: 11y/En1

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11y/En1

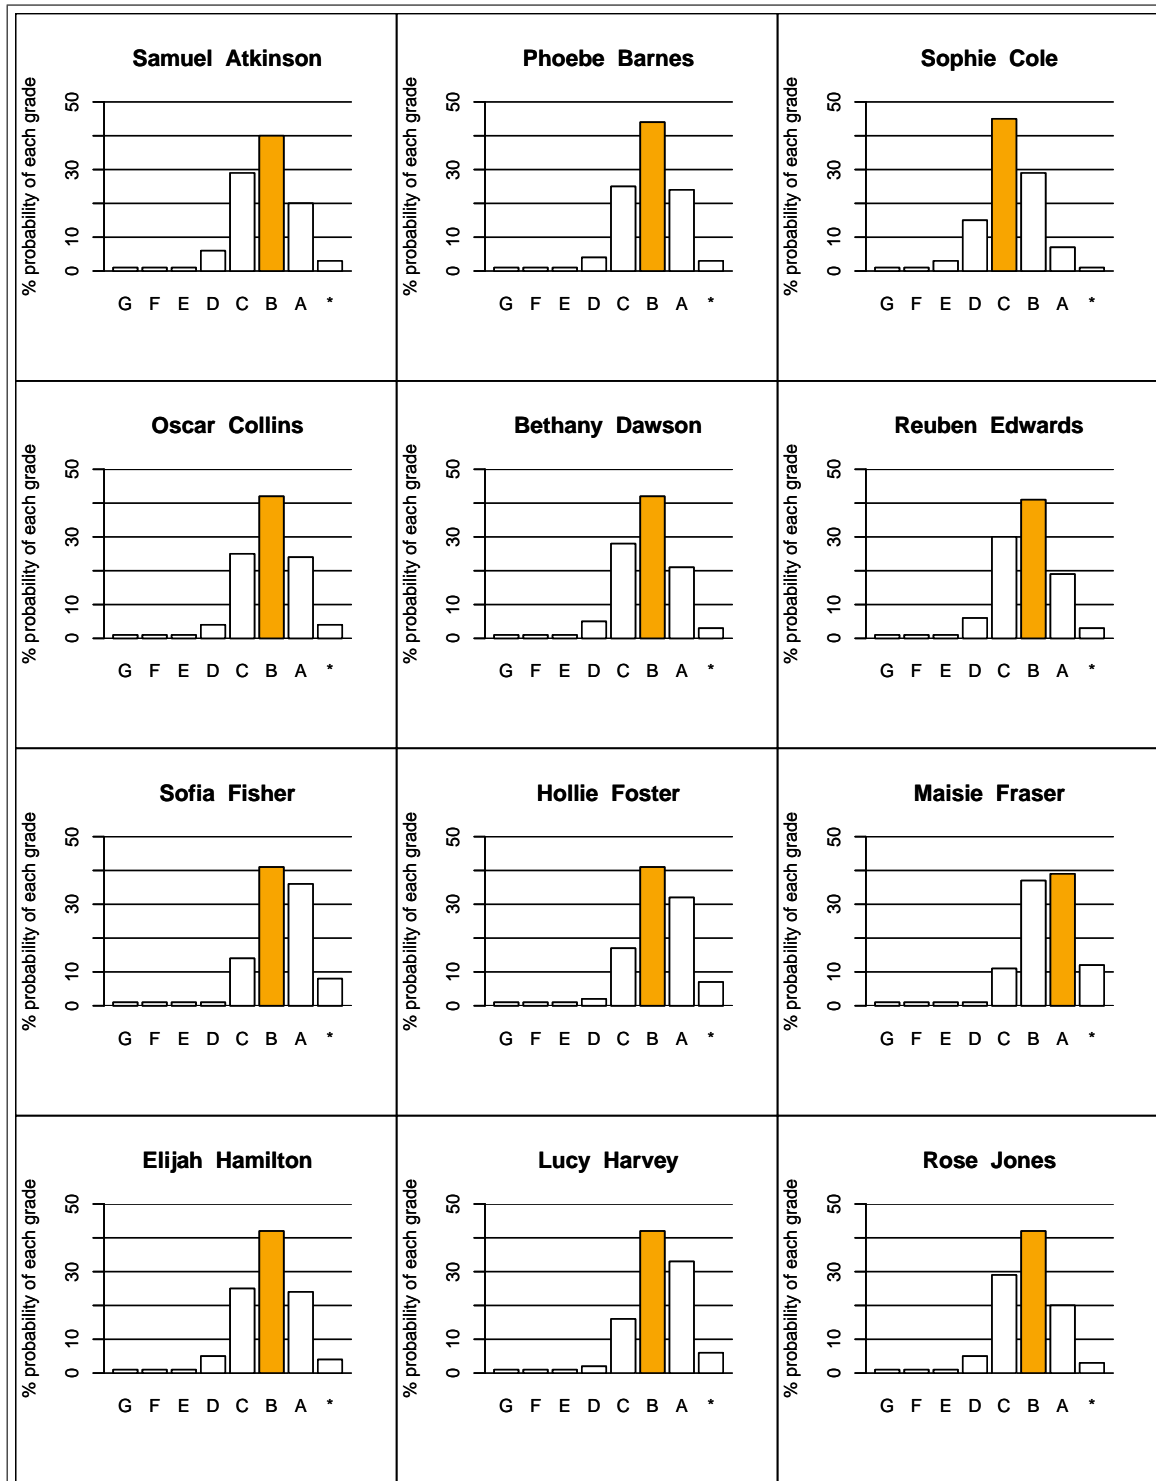

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

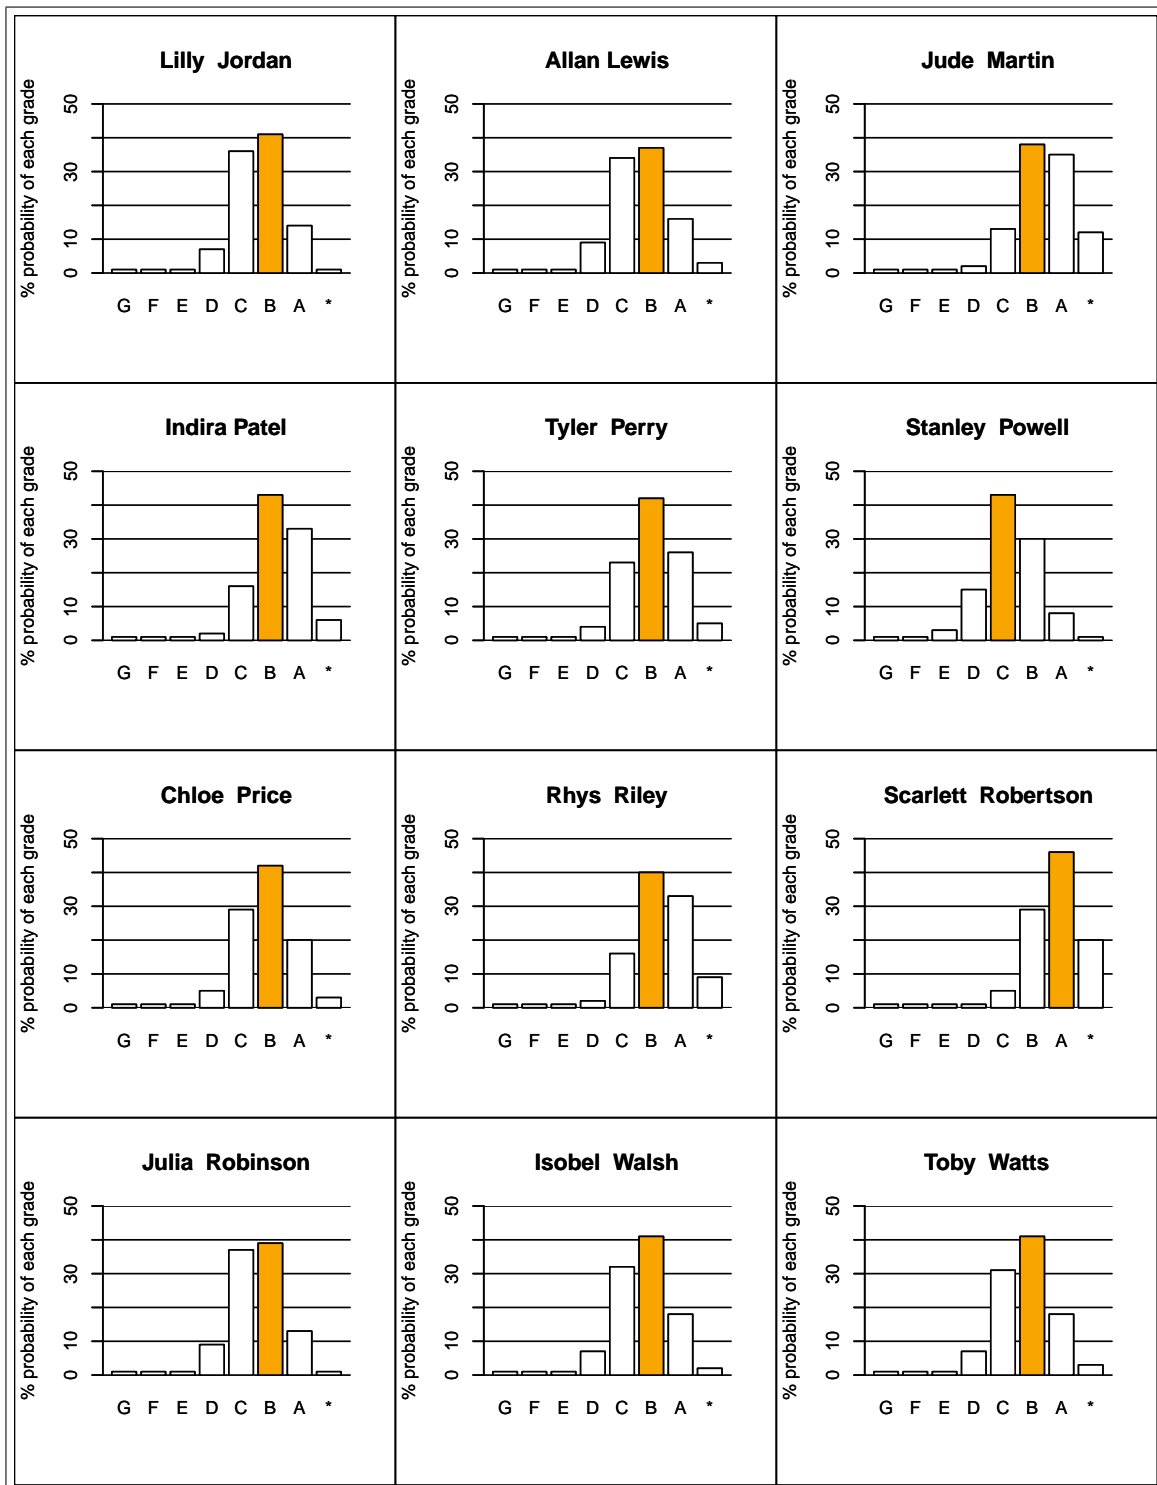

Teaching group: 11y/En2

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

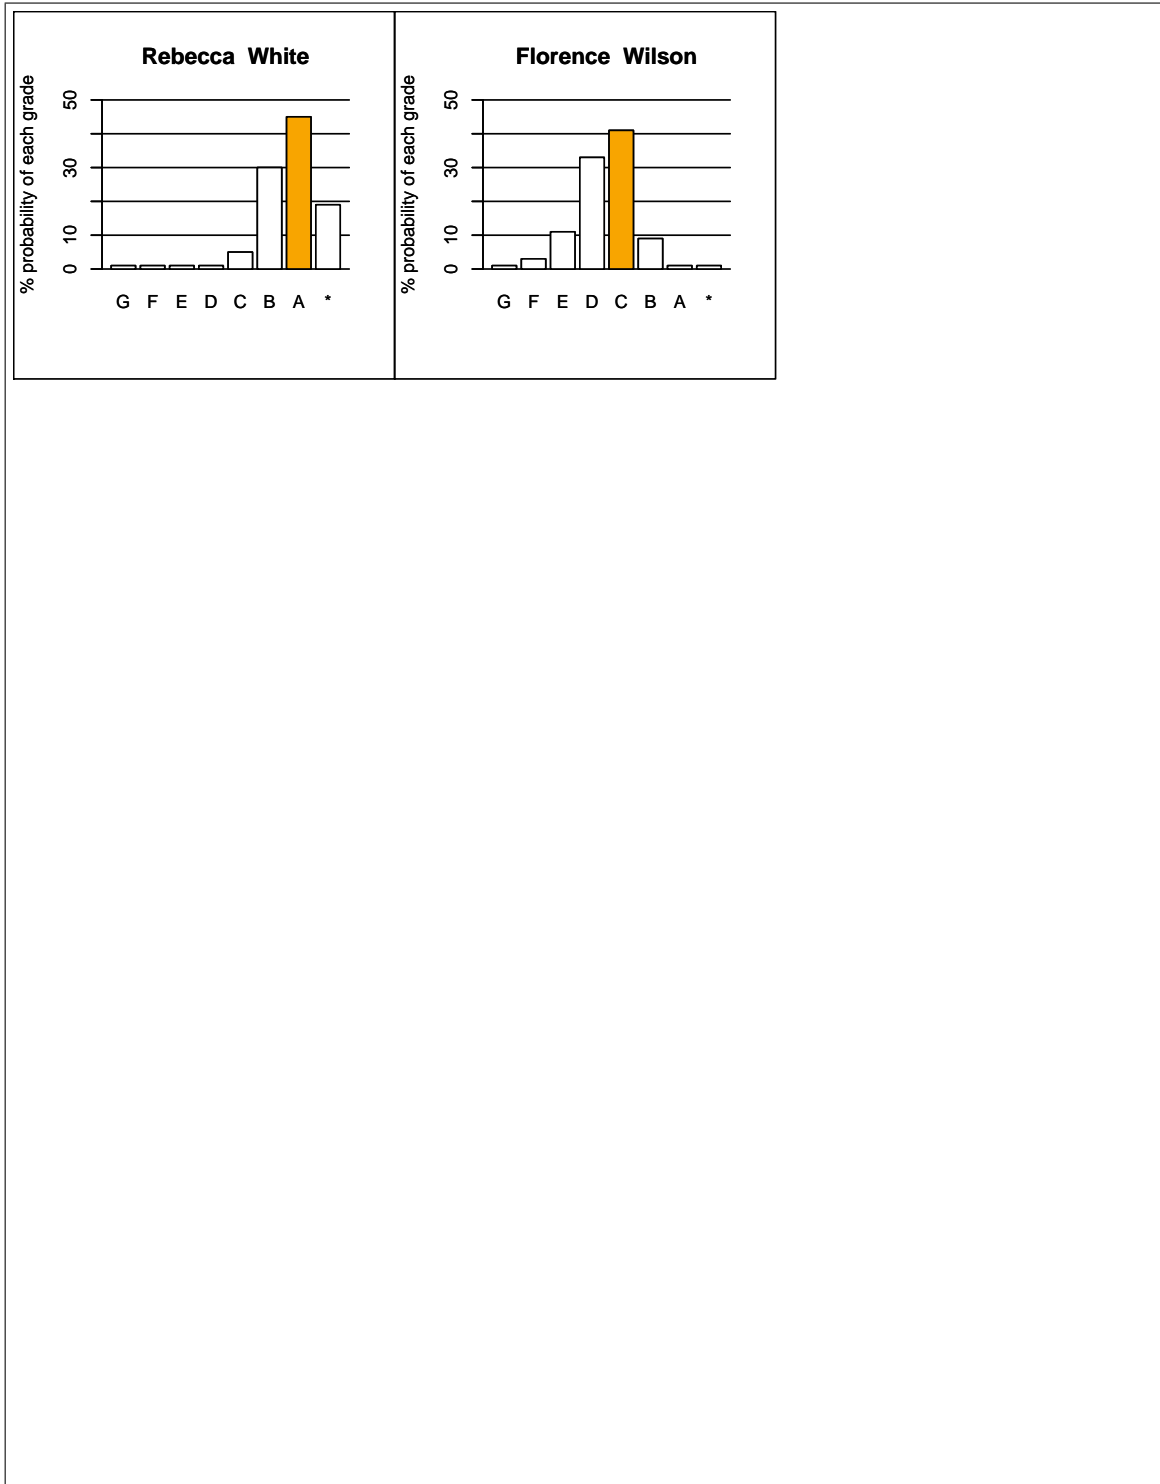

Teaching group: 11y/En2

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11y/En2

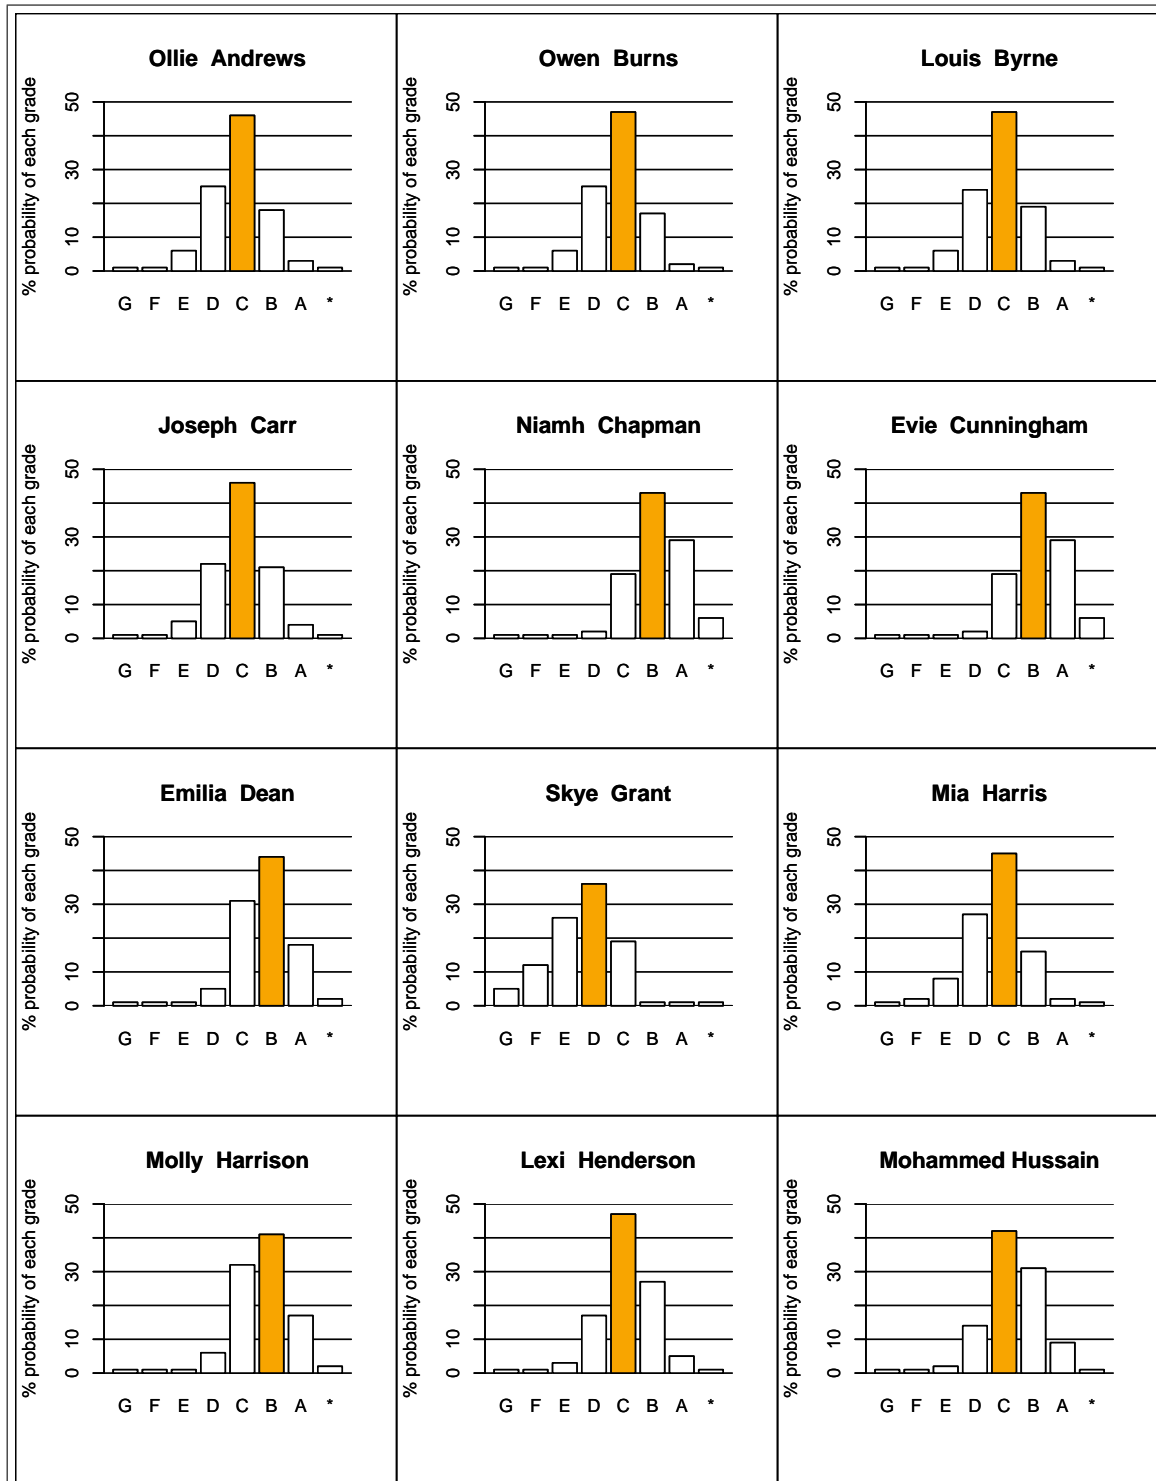

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

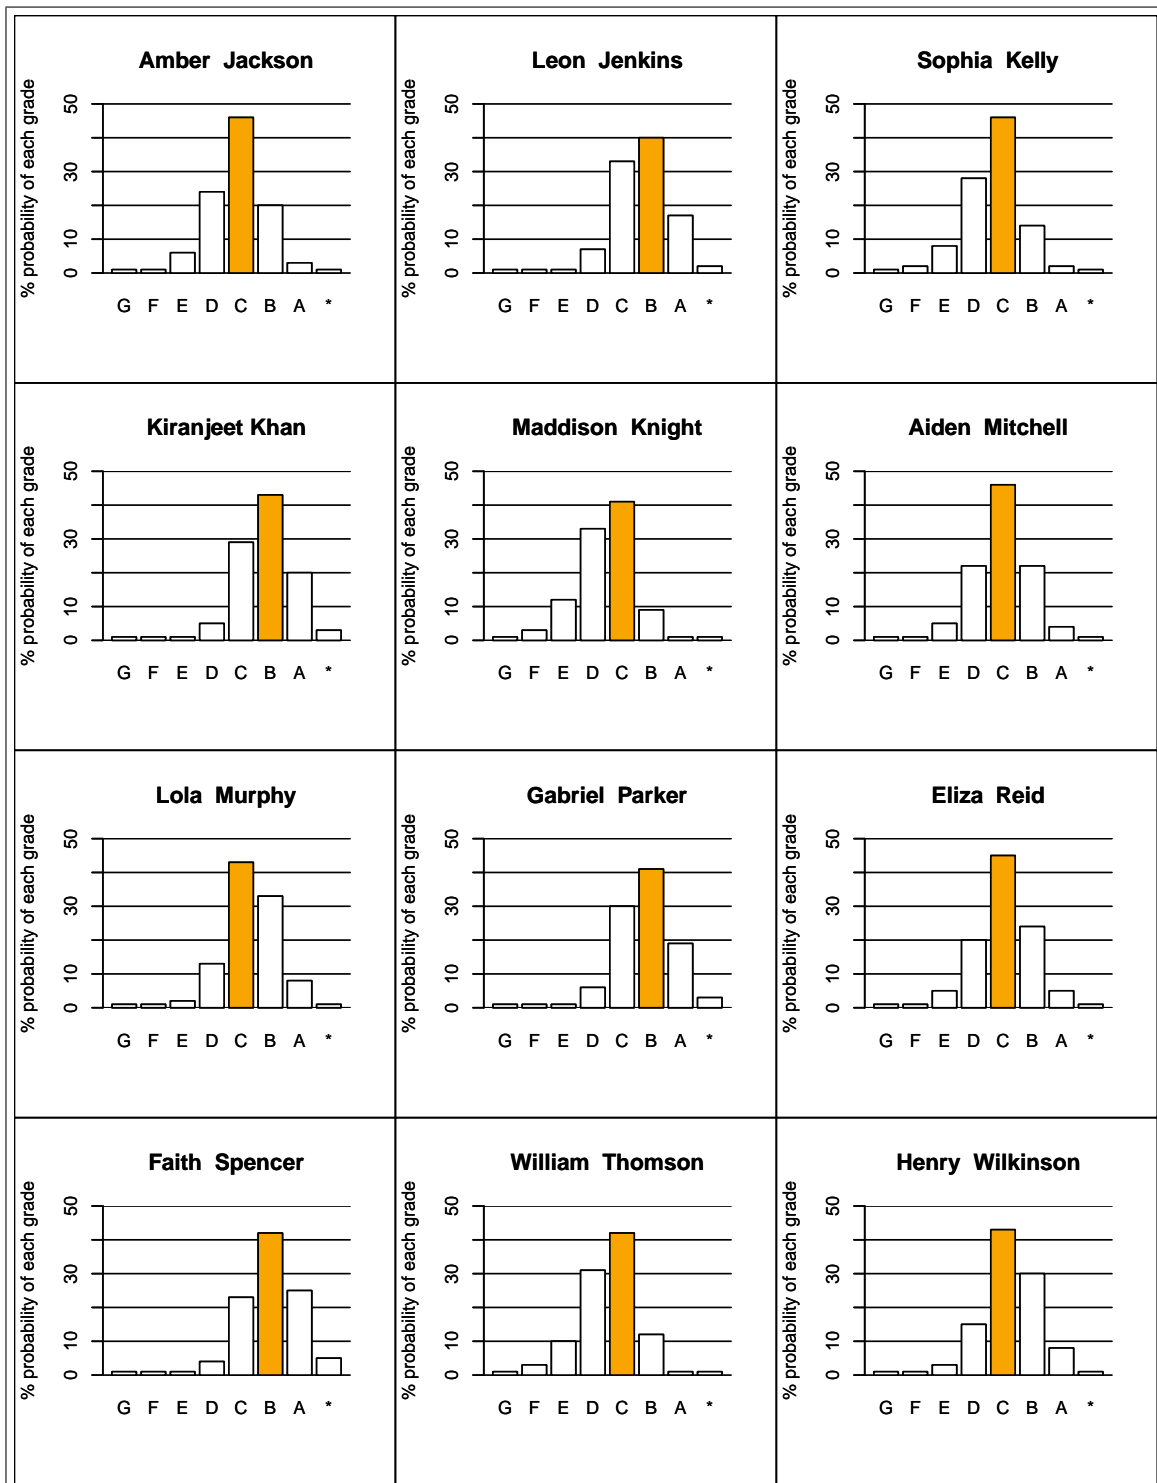

Teaching group: 11y/En3

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

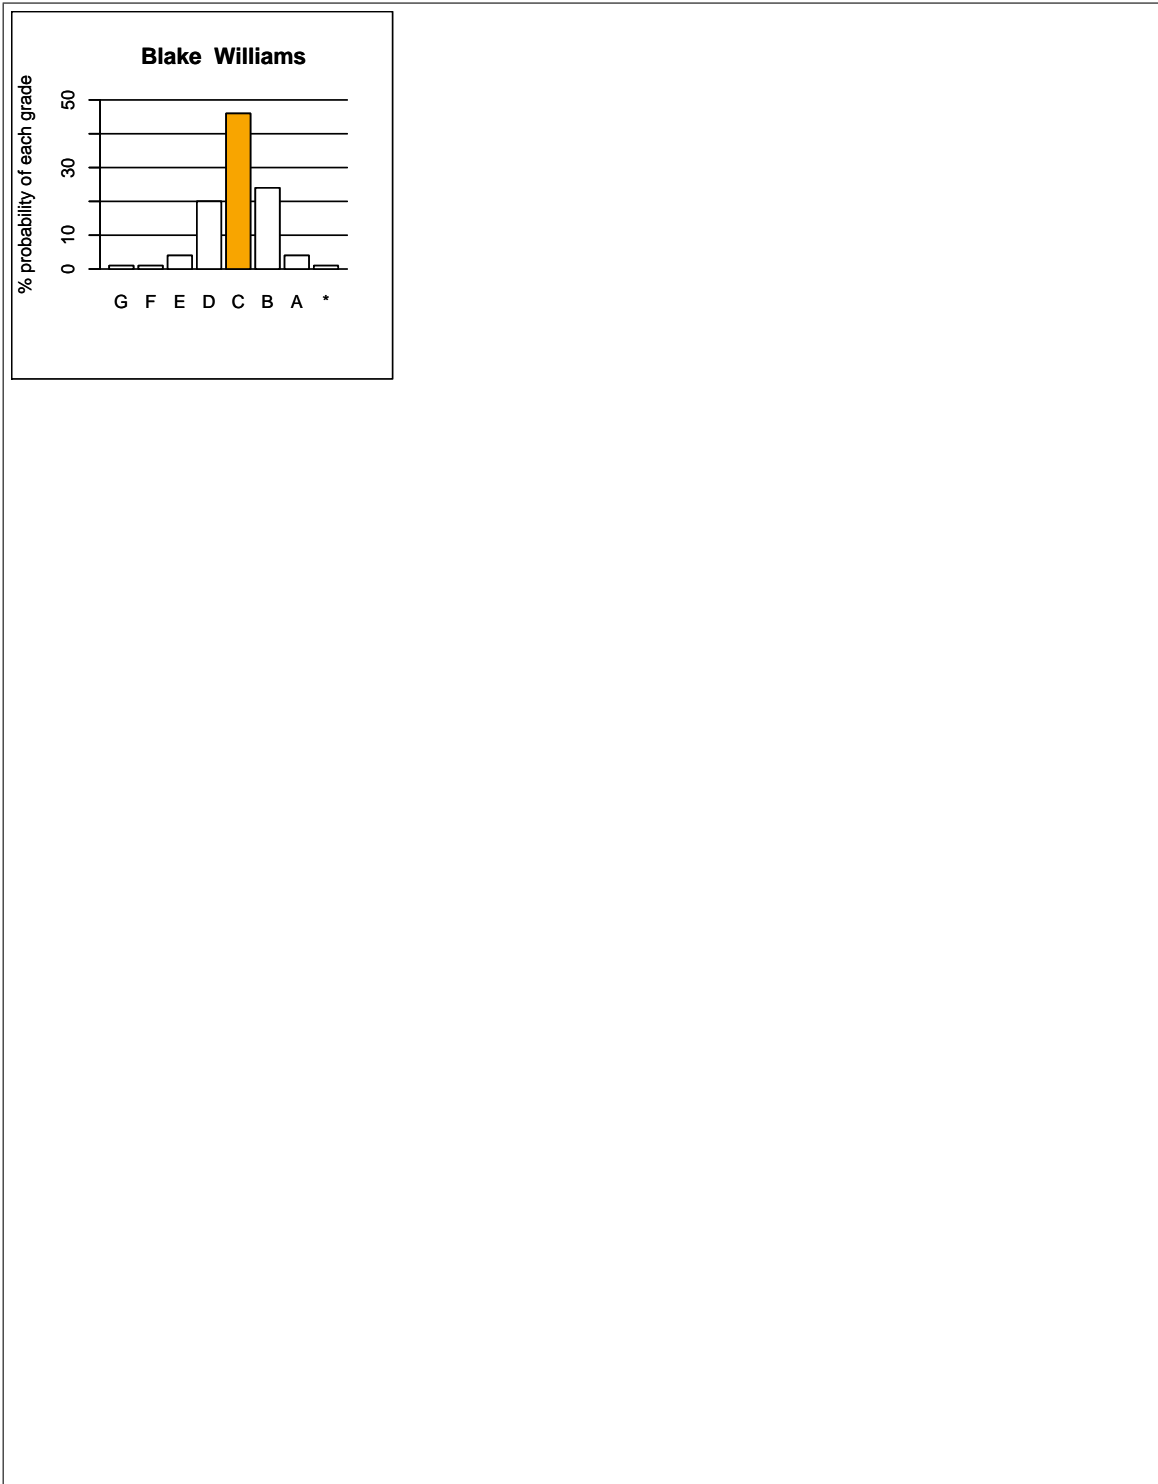

Teaching group: 11y/En3

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11y/En3

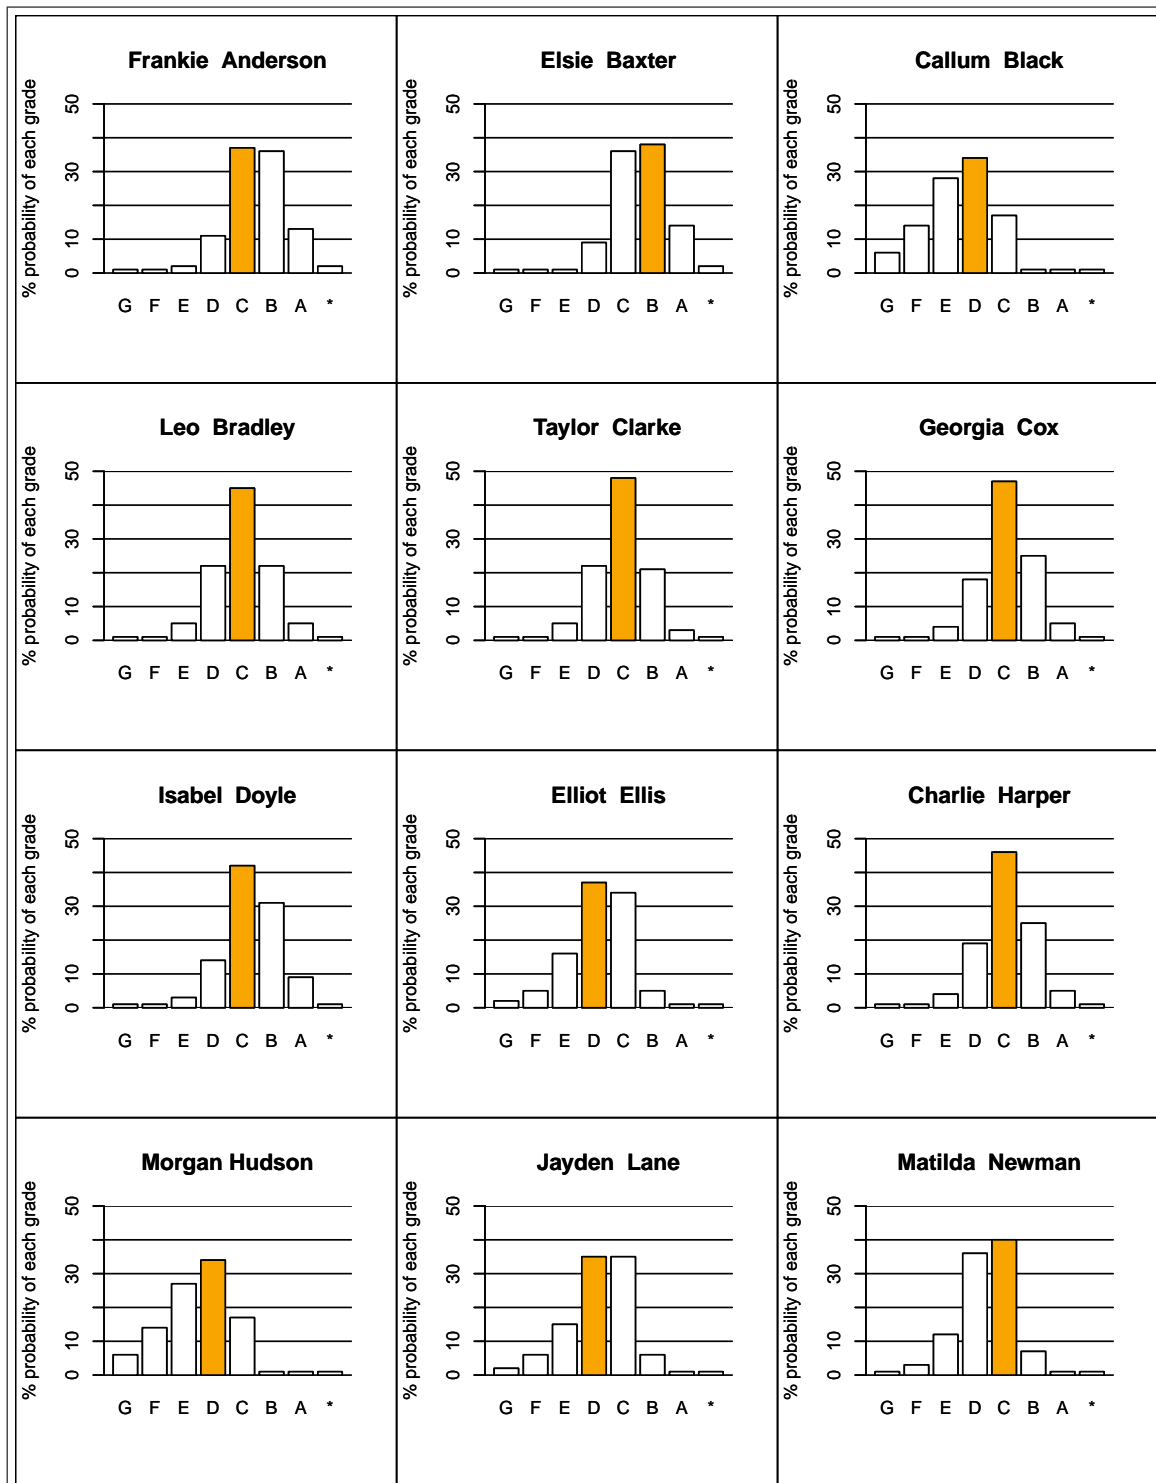

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

This page left intentionally blank.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

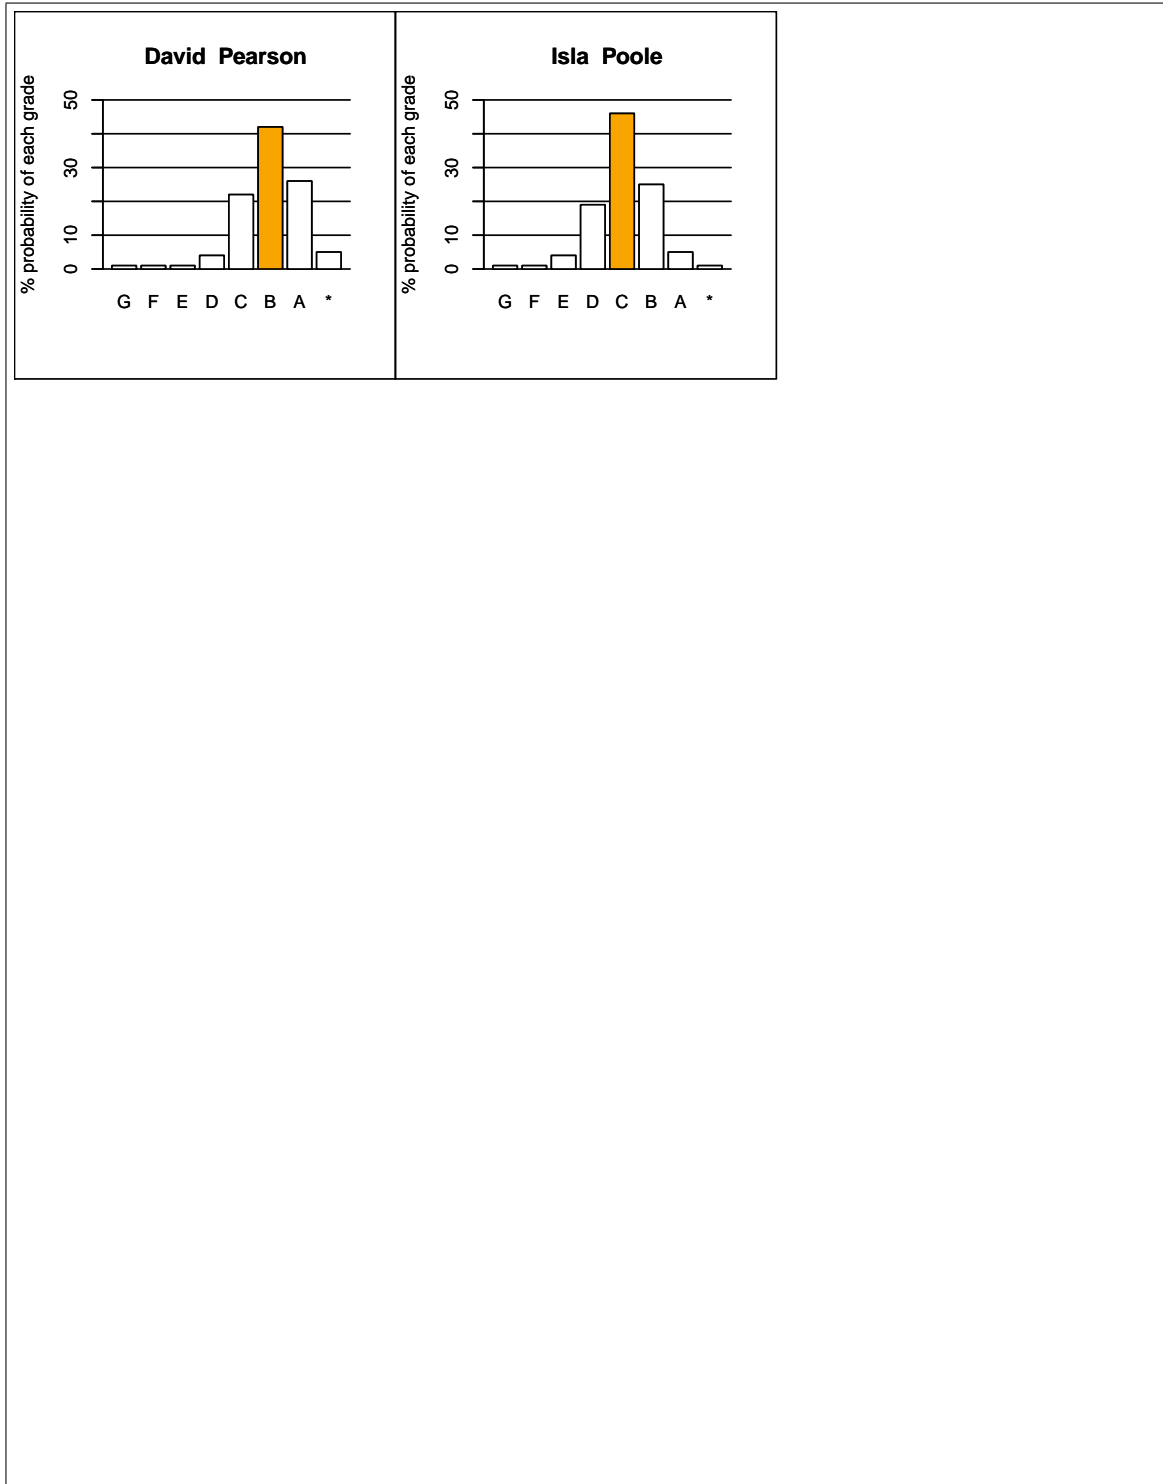

Teaching group: 11y/En4

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.

FFT English type D GCSE estimates for English

Teaching group: 11y/En4

These estimates from the Fischer Family Trust show what students similar in KS2 scores, gender and birthdate achieved in the past at GCSE. The variation shows that student interests and effort can make a big difference. Discuss these estimates with your students and think what a suitable target might be for each of your students. These type D estimates are fairly ambitious. They are what similar students in the top quarter of schools might achieve.